

Supplier Code of Conduct

Colony Brands, Inc., its affiliates, and its subsidiaries (hereinafter referred to as Colony Brands) are in the business of buying and selling merchandise. Colony Brands does not own, operate, or manage any of the factories that manufacture its non-food merchandise – but instead purchases goods from hundreds of independent Suppliers in the United States and throughout the world.

In selecting Suppliers, Colony Brands tries to identify reputable companies that have the willingness and ability to conduct their business with high ethical, legal, and socially responsible standards as identified by Colony Brands. This Supplier Code of Conduct sets forth the commitment of Colony Brands to do business only with those Suppliers that share its commitment to fair and safe business practices.

While Colony Brands recognizes that there are different cultural and legal environments in which its Suppliers may operate throughout the world, this Supplier Code of Conduct sets forth the basic minimum requirements Suppliers must meet in order to do business with Colony Brands. Additionally, this Supplier Code of Conduct provides the foundation for Colony Brands' on-going evaluation of Supplier compliance with these requirements. Failure to adhere to these requirements by a Supplier may result in the cancellation of all outstanding purchase orders and/or termination of the Supplier's business relationship with Colony Brands.

Note that Suppliers are defined as agents, vendors, and manufacturers, as well as any of their respective contractors, subcontractors, or other suppliers, sources, and agents who provide Colony Brands with contracted goods or services.

Please review the below Supplier Code of Conduct. Should you have any questions, please feel free to contact your respective Buyer, Inventory Manager, or the Colony Brands Global Compliance Group.

Suppliers will also ensure these same standards apply to residential facilities, if provided. Additionally, Suppliers must comply with all applicable laws and regulations regarding occupational health and safety.

Wages and Benefits – Suppliers will fairly compensate their workers by complying with all local and national wage and hour laws and regulations of the jurisdictions in which they operate, including those pertaining to minimum wages, overtime wages, piece rates, and other elements of compensation. All legally mandated benefits must be provided.

U.S. Customs & Border Protection – Suppliers will comply with all applicable U.S. Customs & Border Protection laws and regulations governing the importation of product into the United States and will establish and maintain programs and documentation to support such regulations. Suppliers will educate themselves regarding both U.S. Customs & Border Protection and Colony Brands Customs-Trade Partnership Against Terrorism (C-TPAT) security recommendations and requirements and take the necessary steps to comply. Each Supplier facility (whether production or warehousing) must have written security procedures and maintain documented proof of the adequate controls implemented to guard against the introduction of non-manifested cargo into the supply chain.

Environment – Suppliers will comply with all applicable legislation and regulations regarding the protection of the environment. Suppliers shall commit to reducing the environmental impact of their designs, manufacturing processes, and waste emissions. Factories shall work to eliminate the use of toxic and hazardous substances from the production process. Colony Brands encourages Suppliers to reduce excess packaging and to use non-toxic, environmentally friendly materials whenever possible. Colony Brands’ policy specifically prohibits the use of ozone depleting substances and requires compliance with the United States Endangered Species Act of 1973.

Subcontractors – Any subcontractors retained by Colony Brands Suppliers must be in compliance with this Supplier Code of Conduct. Each Supplier is responsible for ensuring its subcontractor’s compliance and will be held accountable for any breaches in policy.

Record Keeping / Monitoring – All Suppliers will maintain documentation to demonstrate compliance with the above Code and shall make it available for review purposes at any time. Each factory agrees to allow Colony Brands and its agents (including third parties) to engage in assessment activities including unannounced inspections with or without prior notice.
